We are so excited to hear how he gets on and will update you following the event!

Odd Socks

Thank you to everyone who showed support for our Odd Socks week. It was wonderful seeing the children chatting about their socks; those who had mis-matched their own socks, those who had borrowed a family members socks and those who had turned them inside out! Such brilliant ideas and such fun was had but coming back to the important point throughout our assemblies this week about kind words and thoughts.

Thomas Taylor

Awesome Book Awards and award winning illustrator.

'I love reading because a book is a golden ticket to anywhere, a personal introduction to anyone at all – from any time or realm – and the nearest thing to magic we have.'

Did you know that Thomas Taylor created the first front cover for 'Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone'? Since then, he has gone on to write and illustrate several picture books and introduced us all to a new world called 'Eerie-on Sea' which is where Herbie and Violet have had an incredible range of adventures.
